Washington Post calls SkillBook "the future!"

“ It's impressive how much these students have progressed, from focusing too much on design in Web1 to focusing a LOT more on design in Web3! Regardless really amazing website def. the best I have seen so far - probably

— Mr. Lara Rojas, John J.G - the mind of a generation

I have never wasted so much time on a website before - A guy who wasted a lot more time on videogames!

“ Your work is going to fill a large part of your life, and the only way to be truly satisfied is to do what you believe is great work. And the only way to do great work is to love what you do. If you haven't found it yet, keep looking. Don't settle. As with all matters of the heart, you'll know when you find it.

— Steve Trabajos

“ Good design is as little design as possible.

— If only we listened

There is not much to say about the homepage's functionalities it is mostly designed to attract the user.

There is a clear header and footer in the home page which is present across the whole website. All the links in the header and footer are functional and will redirect you – somewhere. The header view is for normal users admin's get an extra page.

The newsletter subscription service is not active since we aren't sending newsletters yet. But it looks nice doesn't it :D.

The popular posts as well just display the 4 most recent posts, but the users don't need to know that. (We can add the functionality to sort by amount of comments or ratings but decided it was unnecessary and focused on deliverables for once)

About SkillBook

SkillBook is an online community guided towards bringing gamers from all around the world together. No matter what type of gamer you are, be it professional, or useless (I mean casual), we strive to connect you with like minded individuals in order to upstart your gaming career. In SkillBook you can interact with many people through our posts and comment features. Adding friends coming soon.

The news feed features the three most competitive games at the top which are updated manually every so often.

Then right below are all the current posts in the database.

The first "Test" post has a watermark over the picture as you can see (SB).

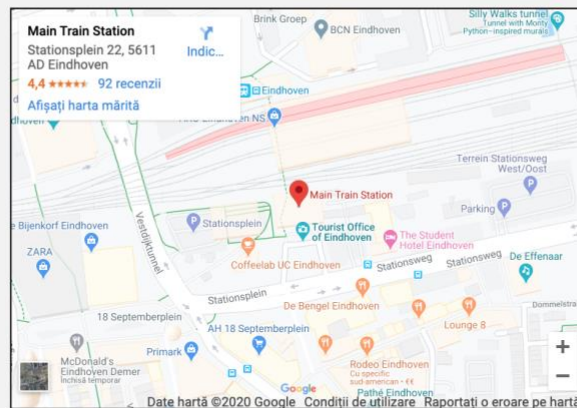

The watermark is automatically added to all the cover pages and profile avatars during the upload.

The Posts are able to be sorted as well but in this image they are sorted by 'created_at'. Most recent being top left 'test'.

Simple registration and login page for users.

In order to be an admin you must register from the API with role 1.

VIEW AFTER LOGIN

As you can see the header changes and a drop-down menu appears below the username.

The first link to Profile shows user information (in this case only profile picture) and the option to change the profile picture. As you can see it shows the watermark on the profile picture as well.

ADD POST

The screenshot shows a web application interface for adding a new post. At the top, there is a dark navigation bar with links for 'Home', 'News Feed', and 'Contact'. On the right side of the navigation bar, there is a user profile icon and the name 'cello' with a dropdown arrow. Below the navigation bar, the main content area has a light gray background. The title 'Add new post' is displayed in a bold, black font. Below the title, there are two input fields: 'Title' and 'Body'. The 'Title' field contains the text 'Uno dos tres' and is followed by a horizontal line. The 'Body' field contains the text 'cuatro cinco seis' and is followed by a horizontal line. Below the body field, there is a section titled 'Choose a cover picture'. Under this section, there is a 'Choose File' button and a file name '1920x1080_bi...r_zelda.jpg'. At the bottom of the form, there is a black button with the text 'SUBMIT' in white capital letters.

Adding a new post is quite simple, you just need to input the Title and Body fields plus a cover picture (all of them required, if not then an error message will be displayed)

Once you click submit your post will be *posted* (as redundant as that sounds).

Note: you are only allowed to post after you are logged in.

MY POSTS

(Sorry for the bad crop it's to make them look bigger)

Here all the users' posts will be shown for the user to easily scroll through.

As you can see they are ordered from oldest in the left to newest in the right.

HOW TO BECOME ADMIN

Assumption: you can only become an admin if you have access to the database or the API.

You must change the role of your registered user to 1 manually,

Or when you test the API put please make your role 1 in order to get access to ADMIN privileges.

ADMIN VIEW EXPORT TO EXCEL

The screenshot displays the Skillbook Admin interface. At the top, there's a dark header with social media icons (Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, Pinterest) on the left and the 'SKILLBOOK' logo in the center. Below the header, a navigation bar contains links for 'Home', 'News Feed', 'Contact', and 'Export'. On the right of the navigation bar, there's a user profile icon and the name 'cello' with a dropdown arrow. The main content area is titled 'Users'. Below the title, there's a black button with white text that says 'EXPORT TO EXCEL'. Underneath the button is a table with four columns: 'ID', 'Name', 'Email', and 'Created at'. The table contains four rows of user data.

ID	Name	Email	Created at
1	Howell Mueller	jast.arlo@example.org	2020-06-05 15:55:27
2	Halle Buckridge	daija63@example.org	2020-06-05 15:55:27
3	cello	cello@gmail.com	2020-06-05 16:10:27
4	cello	mihail@gmail.com	2020-06-05 16:12:49

The Excel button on the header only appears if you are an admin.

Clicking on the Export page will open the export to excel page where you can see a list of all users and the button to export to Excel.

Clicking on said button will create an excel file with all the users.
